Frequently asked Questions

Please see below answers for some potential questions you may have about the school. Please do however contact us on 01736 364087 or at secretary@alverton.cornwall.sch.uk should you need to find out further information regarding the School Offer.

How does the school know if children need extra help?

All pupils at Alverton School have access to Quality First Teaching in all classrooms regardless of their needs and abilities. Progress is closely monitored and, if a child does not make the expected progress, the class teacher will talk to the SENDCo and parents to discuss what extra help may be required. All intervention groups are closely monitored on a regular basis. If the school and parents feel other support is needed, the school has access to different outside agencies who can be called upon to conduct further assessments and give guidance as to how best to move the child forward. The school will use the 'Graduated Approach to Plan Do Assess Review' to monitor the progress of pupils on SEN support.

What should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

If you are at all concerned about your child's progress in school or have other worries in a wider context, then the first step will be to talk to your child's teacher. Following this, the teacher will suggest a meeting with the school SENDCo where both your own and the teacher's concerns can be discussed and a plan for the way forward can be put in place. We value the knowledge and contributions that parents/ carers bring to their child's education and always listen and act upon their concerns, if required. Meetings can always be arranged by contacting the school office.

Who is responsible for the progress and success of my child in school?

Ultimately the Governors of the school are responsible for ensuring each child succeeds at Alverton and makes good educational progress. The Headteacher and Senior Leaders ensure that the policies and targets adopted by the Governing Body are incorporated into the curriculum and extra-curricular life of the school.

Class teachers have the day to day responsibilities for the progress and success of the children in their classes. All adults in the school contribute to the progress and achievement of all the children.

The SENDCo will support teachers to ensure that the needs of all children on SEN support are met within the classroom.

How will the curriculum be matched to my child's needs?

Alverton School staff work hard to ensure the curriculum provides breadth and depth and fully supports the learning needs of all our pupils. Through detailed planning and use of resources, the school provides challenge within all learning outcomes, whatever the level your child may be working at. The school follows and delivers the National Curriculum and every pupil has access to this through careful, adapted planning in teams.

How will school staff support my child?

All staff at Alverton school have a responsibility to support every pupil from the Early Years to Year 6. The class teacher is responsible for the achievement and progress of your child on a day to day basis. Teaching Assistants in every class supports the teacher in delivering the curriculum as well providing additional support and resources to ensure the health, safety and well-being and social development of all pupils.

How will I know how my child is doing and how will you help me to support my child's learning?

The school has several ways to report your child's progress to you. EYFS and Key Stage 1 children have reading diaries or similar which go home every day and parents have the opportunity to write comments in these. Key Stage 2 operate a slightly different system and, if required, some children have home/school diaries where more detailed comments from both home and school can be written.

Parent consultation evenings are held in the Autumn and Spring terms where you have the opportunity to discuss your child's progress and to look at their current learning targets. If you wish to have information about your child at other times you are always welcome to speak to your child's teacher; the school requests that you do this at the end of the day or make an appointment at the school office.

Children with additional needs and those with an Education and Health Care Plan will have termly reviews. For children with a EHCP, one of these will be their Annual Review when the SENDCo and other professionals involved will review and plan for the following year.

At the end of the school year, the school produces a written report for parents/carers. These reports outline learning outcomes and your child's individual strengths and areas for development and are written by the class teacher in consultation with their team and include current assessment grades for reading, writing and maths.

Each key stage team produces a curriculum overview to inform parents of the subjects they will be studying throughout the term and includes other relevant information to help you support your child in school. Homework is primarily based around the key skills of reading, spelling and times tables along with a selection of other activities that you can choose to do with your child which will consolidate their learning in school. Throughout the year, there are events where parents are invited in to join in with their child's class and celebrate their achievements. Workshops are sometimes held to inform parents of the latest initiatives to help parents support their children with their learning at home.

The SENDCo runs an occasional parent support group for parents with children with SEND.

What support will there be for my child's wellbeing?

Alverton School believes in a 'rounded education' and children's emotional health and wellbeing are as important as their academic attainment and progress. The school ensures therefore that, if required, adapted support can be put in place for difficulties with behaviour, communication, social, emotional or physical needs. The school has a very active and effective Pastoral Support team which provides individualised and group support to those children who need it, as well as responding on a daily basis to individual needs. We have members of staff trained to deliver 'Draw and Talk' and 'autistic champions' as well as a HLTA trained in Speech and Language which helps with communication and social issues. The learning environment is very important and the school does its best to accommodate individual, more specific learning needs e.g. designated 'safe spaces', sensory room.

The individual physical needs of some pupils can be addressed, following input from outside experts such as physiotherapists, occupational therapists, visual / hearing advisers and speech and language therapists. Pupils will follow their personal plan which is incorporated into their timetable as required. Medical needs are addressed through individual medical care plans, written by parents, professionals and the SENDCO. The school nurses may visit Alverton when needed to see pupils and to support staff.

Behaviour needs are addressed through consultation involving parents, class teacher and, if necessary, the SENDCo and / or the Headteacher, TPAT Behaviour Lead and will follow our Behaviour Policy. Positive behaviour is celebrated and rewarded through the school Behaviour Policy. Some members of staff are PRICE trained within protocols to ensure, only if required, the safe handling of pupils.

The school organises and attends TAC / TAF (Team Around the Child / Family) and Early Support meetings. Designated members of staff attend core group meetings with parents/carers and multi-agency teams to help support pupil's wellbeing.

How do I know my child is safe in school?

All staff at Alverton receive Level 2 Safeguarding training. The Headteacher is the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) and there are three Deputy DSLs as well as other Safeguarding Officers in both the school and the nursery, all of whom have received Level 3 training. Safeguarding leaflets are available in the school reception and on the website and induction meetings carried out by senior members of staff ensure all adults are aware of our safeguarding procedures.

Safeguarding protocols are governed by the Safeguarding Policy of the school which is written but the Cornwall Association of Primary Heads and approved by Truro and Penwith Academy Trust (TPAT). The designated safeguarding governor(s) and the Local Management Committee (previously known as the school governors), along with TPAT ensure that the school meets all statutory guidance and follows all the expected protocols. The named Safeguarding Governor who has received the appropriate training.

The school has two fully qualified first aiders holding the First Aid at Work certificate and the majority of staff are trained in Emergency First Aid. Early Years staff have been trained in Paediatric First Aid.

The school has provided a 'fob' system at the front door for security reasons and only members of staff who work in the school hold a fob. All outside doors from the classrooms and other public areas are kept closed and are opened with a key, which again only members of staff have access to. Any gates on the school grounds are bolted shut during school hours. All members of staff know they must not share fobs or keys with anyone else. The school also operates a CCTV system around the school which is monitored. The door into the Early Years area has two handles to gain access or to leave the classroom.

Alverton School undertakes the risk assessments required for all out of school activities. Leaders of the activities are responsible for ensuring that all the appropriate risk assessments are in place.

We work closely with TPAT's Health and Safety and Estates teams to ensure that we are compliant in all aspects of health and safety, including the building and grounds, actioning reports and action plans to ensure the school building is fit for purpose and is compliant within all health and safety regulations.

The school holds all personal information in regards to its pupils in the office in a locked cupboard or filing cabinet or online. This information includes the telephone/contact details for the parent/carers/next of kin. It is the parents/carers responsibility to inform the school of changes to these details. Additionally the school operates a texting service for all parents and staff which enables us to contact parent at any time of day to relay information re any changes that may happen e.g. changes to after school clubs, closure due to unexpected conditions etc. In addition to this our EYFS use FAMLY as a form of contact with parents.

All staff are issued with identity badges which contain their photograph, the school logo and details of their job within the school; the badges are worn at all times and allow the children and visitors to recognise the people working in school. Visitors to the school are requested to report to reception on arrival, sign in the visitors' book and receive a temporary identity badge to be worn for the duration of the visit. At the end of the visit the log should be signed and the badge given back to the office. All staff and volunteers have up to date DBS checks.

There is a clearly defined drill in the case of a fire and 'fire practices' are held for the whole school at undisclosed times to make sure everyone on the premises knows what to do and where to go. The school has named fire officers who have received the appropriate training. All fire equipment is regularly checked and maintained.

The Children and Families Act 2014 requires the governors of the school to make the appropriate arrangements to support any pupils at the school with medical conditions. It requires that a medical plan is drawn up for these pupils and that the school will be in contact with any health and social care professionals, pupils and parents/carers to ensure that the needs of pupils with medical conditions are effectively supported. Alverton School works with a wide range of professionals (see below) who attend TAC and Early Support meetings and will be involved in drawing up Education, Health and Care Plans.

What specialist services and expertise are available or accessed by your school?

Alverton School works with a wide range of health professionals and multi-agency teams who help us to support any pupils in school that may have already been identified with a need and to help with assessments and guidance for those pupils that are not making the expected progress and are causing concern. The parents/carers are involved at every stage of these assessments.

Please see the section 'Organisations we work with' for a more detailed list.

What SEND training have the staff at school had or are having?

The School Development Plan is drawn up every year and highlights the areas which will be developed during this time. The school also conducts an annual Performance Management cycle for all staff. From these documents, training for the whole staff and for individuals is identified and acted upon.

Whole school training has included First Aid, regular safeguarding training and updates, helping children to work independently, questioning techniques, Autism, Dyspraxia, Dyslexia, Behaviour Management, Early development and other Early Years SEND specific training and aspects of English and Maths. Some staff are also trained in Speech and Language, management of epilepsy or diabetes, special feeding requirements, physiotherapy and food hygiene.

Our TPAT SENDCO will notify the SENDCO of any local or Trust specific training within the SENDCO network meetings. The TPAT SENDCO will meet regularly with the school SENDCO to review the SEND provision and staff CPD.

How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom, including school trips?

Alverton is a fully inclusive school and all pupils have the opportunity to join in whole school, curriculum and off-site activities, including educational visits and camps, regardless of their needs. Parents/carers will be notified at the earliest stage of all educational visits and camps by letter or face to face conversation. All children are encouraged to attend these but if for some reason a parent/carer does not wish their child to participate in a planned visit/camp they will be asked to notify the school in good time so that alternative arrangements can be made.

The school may need to ask for voluntary contributions for such visits; these charges are in line with the schools Charging Policy which has been agreed by the governing body of the school. The school reserves the right to cancel a trip if insufficient contributions are made. The school also operates a policy in respect of those children in receipt of the Pupil Premium grant who are able to use a designated amount of money towards the cost of various items, including trips, across the year.

Some visits e.g. camps will require additional measures to ensure that the health, safety and well-being of all pupils, including those with additional needs are catered for.

Parents/carers, by law, are not allowed to take their children on holiday, or out of school, during term time. If, in exceptional circumstances, children have to be taken out of school, parents/carers must fill out a form which can be obtained from the school office. Parents/carers are advised that they are not able to take their children out of school until the form has been returned and agreed. Any child taken out of school without permission from the Headteacher will be marked as an unauthorised absence which, in some circumstances, may incur a fine.

How accessible is the school environment?

Alverton School is mostly on one level and all areas are accessible to wheel chair users. Toilets can, and have, been adapted for some pupils with differing needs and there is a disabled toilet and shower room, which also has a specially adapted changing area.

Ramps have been included outside to allow easy access and the school's accessibility is regularly reviewed, resulting in additional measures being put in place as identified.

The accessibility plan is reviewed annually by the SENDCo along with the Headteacher.

How will the school prepare and support my child through the transition from key stage to key stage and beyond?

Children starting school in the Early Years classes will have pre-arranged visits during the summer term, some including their parents/carers. Those children that attend the school nursery also access certain activities in the main school e.g. P.E. and visiting the Library. Information meetings for parents/carers will also be held by the Early Years Team.

Transition between Early Years (Nursery - Reception) / KS1 and KS1 / KS2 includes 'meet the teacher' mornings at the end of the summer term. Information regarding all pupils is passed from the outgoing teacher to the new teacher every year. If some pupils with special needs require extra sessions/visits, then these can be arranged. The SENDCo spends time with the new class teacher going through any extra information and adaptations that may be required.

Transitions between Year 6 and secondary school includes pre-arranged visits/activity days to the feeder secondary schools before final requests for places have to be submitted. Once County have allocated the places, all pupils will have further visits to the school they will be attending the following September.

For those pupils with additional needs, all secondary schools offer pre-arranged extra visits/activities in smaller groups and transition SENDCO meetings will take place. These children will also take up 'education passports' which give the secondary school any information the pupils wish them to have regarding themselves, their families, favourite activities etc.

How are the school's resources allocated and matched to children's special educational needs?

All pupils at Alverton School follow the National Curriculum. For those with additional needs, assessments will have identified the extra resources/adaptations that will be required in order for those pupils to fully access and progress in their learning. Each pupil will receive the support matched to their level of need e.g. 1:1 support, small group work, 1:1 speech and language support or specially adapted resources for those with visual, hearing or physical needs.

How is the decision made about what type and how much support my child will receive?

At Alverton, any decisions made about the type and amount of support a child needs will be made with the child's teacher, the SENDCo, parents/carers and any outside professionals that are required.

All children have access to 'quality first teaching' in the classroom and assessments will be monitored termly by the leadership team and more frequently by team leaders and teachers. If a child does not progress at the expected rate, they may be put onto SEN Support and follow the Graduated Approach of Plan, Do, Assess, Review. If, after following this, their progress continues to be of concern, the decision may be taken to go for a 'single assessment' which could, in turn, lead to the child having an EHCP (Education and Health Care Plan). The EHCP will determine the support the child needs. For those children without an EHCP, the Senior Leadership Team will each year, according to the budget, allocate appropriate numbers of Teaching Assistants to support the individual/group needs of each learner and their teachers.

What are the roles of the school governors and the Headteacher?

Alverton is part of Truro and Penwith Academy Trust who work with the Headteacher and Senior Leadership Team, supported by the Local Management Committee (previously the Governing Body) to set the aims and objectives of the school, setting policies and targets and reviewing the progress/achievement of these. The Local Management Committee acts as a 'critical friend' to the Headteacher by providing advice and support. Alverton School has a strong, active and supportive Local Management Committee.

Alverton has a Headteacher who is supported by two Deputy Heads. The Headteacher is responsible for the internal organisation, management and control of the school as well as advising on and implementing the school's and the trust's aims and targets. The Head will formulate aims and objectives, policies and targets and will regularly report to the Local Management Committee and to the trust.

The Local Management Committee is made up of different people with varying interests and skills and includes both staff and parent governors. Staff members (other than the Head) are elected by the school staff and must be paid to work at the school. Parent members are elected by parents of children at the school and other members are co-opted by the Local Management Committee.

Alverton School is part of Truro and Penwith Academy Trust which is overseen by a Board of Directors. This Board, and its committees, hold responsibility for many aspects of the school. Further information can be found on the Trust's website.

What should I do if I feel the School Offer is not meeting my child's needs?

Parents/carers who feel that the School Offer is not meeting their child's needs are asked to do the following to help address their concerns:

- In the first instance take their concern/key issue to the class teacher and the class teacher will then feedback this information to the Senior Leadership Team / Headteacher.
- Following this, a meeting with the Headteacher / member of the Senior Leadership Team can be arranged through the school secretaries.
- The key issue/concern could also be raised at a review meeting (either a school review, TAC or Early Support meeting).

If parents are not satisfied their concerns have been addressed they can follow the school's Complaints Policy which can be found on the school website at www.alverton.org.uk

Parents can also contact the Special Educational Needs panel at County Hall Truro, Treyew Road, Truro, Cornwall TR1 3AY.

How is your School Offer Reviewed?

From September 2014, it is the responsibility of the Governing Body / Local Management Committee to review the School Offer in consultation with the Senior Leadership Team of the school. This will happen at the beginning of each academic year at a full Governors meeting. If the offer needs to be reviewed during the academic year, it will be the responsibility of the Headteacher to place this on the agenda of the next meeting for their full consideration. The Senior Leadership Team will monitor the School Offer throughout the academic
