2: Hug a book!

We are inviting the members of our school community to share their recommendations for a "Hug in a Book". These are the sorts of books you read and re-read to make you feel happy, calm and comforted. The books that make you feel like you're being wrapped in a warm and cosy hug! It would be great to collect them all together and share them with each other, as you can never underestimate the power of books to get you through when times may seem a bit tough.

Please fill in your "Hug in a Book" recommendation and send a photo/scan of it to worldbookday@alverton.cornwall.sch.uk and we will display them all in a gallery on our World Book Day section of the school website. We can also provide a paper copy if you're collecting printed resources from school.

Happy reading Alverton School and long live the magic of books!
