What I have already learned about different religions

- Christians worship in churches through prayer, singing and services led by a priest, Minister or Vicar., reading from The Bible (Sacred Text)
- Muslims worship in a Mosque, read from The Koran (sacred Text) and believe in Mohammed
- Jews worship in a synagogue with services led by a rabbi reading from The Torah.
- Hindus worship in a temple led by a Mandir, reading from The Vedas (Sacred Text) and believe in Brahman who is One God with many qualities displayed in hundreds of Murtis (gods)
- Sikhs worship in a Gurdwara led by any Sikh, reading from The Guru Granth Sahib (Sacred Text)

By the end of this Unit I

- will be able to identify features of Gospel texts.
- will be able to suggest meanings of gospel texts studied.
- will be able to make the connections between Gospel texts and how Christians live in their own lives.
- Make connections between Christian teachings (e.g. about peace, forgiveness, healing) and the issues, problems and opportunities in the world today, including their own lives
- recognise different points of view.

Information that will help me

The Bible, also known as the Holy Bible, is a group of religious texts of Judaism or Christianity. The word Bible comes from the Greek word τὰ βιβλία (biblía) which means "books" in English, because it is many books in one book. It includes laws, stories, prayers, songs, and wise words. The two main sections are the Old and New Testament

The Gospels

When people talk about "the gospel," there's only one thing they mean: the life and ministry of Jesus Christ. Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John are the four books of the Bible that record almost everything we know about Jesus. If we want to learn about the things Jesus said and did, we have to turn to these ancient texts, believed to have been written by eyewitnesses or people who spoke with them during the first century. They are stories told in such a way as to evoke a certain image of Jesus for a particular audience.

The Ten commandments

The ten commandments are a set of rules. God wrote the 10 Commandments on stone tablets and gave them Moses to share with all the Israelites soon after they left captivity in Egypt. Moses reiterated them 40 years later in as the Israelites neared the Promised Land.

Though God wrote the 10 Commandments thousands of years ago, they still influence our society today.
